Glamour projected by media, slammed in alcohol lecture

By JULIE LEWIS
Activities editor

Alcohol lately has not been used in celebrating but has become the item to celebrate, lecturer Jean Kilbourne said Tuesday night.

The media has recently highlighted what many would consider glamorous effects about alcohol, but Kilbourne described this attitude as a growing disease.

All 600 seats and then some were full, as students gathered in the Union Grand Ballroom to hear media analyst Kilbourne's lecture, "Under the Influence: The Pushing of Alcohol via Advertising."

Kilbourne stressed the need for a change of attitude in the way people view alcohol. "I'm not saying that advertising alone is the cause of alcoholism," she said. "It merely causes society to develop certain attitudes that are harmful."

In an hour-long slide presentation, Kilbourne presented advertisements that promote the recruitment of new alcohol users, an increase in consumption practices and brand switching by consumers.

"Alcohol advertisements make us think that if we drink we will become athletic, popular, sexy and successful," Kilbourne said. "When in fact, they tend to link alcohol with the very qualities it actually destroys in people."

She used statistics from the National Council on Alcoholism to back many of her points. "Over 400 people die every week in this country in alcohol-related car accidents," she said. "That's the same as if there was a fatal 747 crash every week."

Kilbourne, who has been nominated four different times for lecturer of the year, captivated the audience with her use of irony and wit throughout the slide presentation.

"The television producers round us up like cattle," she said. "We are the product. We are the ones sold to the advertisers."

Kilbourne emphasized the need for people to educate, inform and understand the effects of alcoholism. "Our job is to change the norm," she said. "It's everybody's problem."

After the slide presentation, Kilbourne encouraged students to support and attend the Alcohol Awareness Week fair, scheduled for Monday through Thursday in the Union.

Comedian's Subway show slated

Students needing a study break Wednesday can stroll to the Subway and catch comedian Tim Cavanagh's act at 8 p.m.

Cavanagh said in a telephone interview from a tollway oasis Tuesday that he performed in the Subway during Welcome Week in August to a crowd of students who were "full of energy."

Cavanagh said he likes Eastern students because he found them friendly. "They got all the jokes, which is important to a comedian."

Cavanagh said his act changes over time. He added the most fun is when he improvises because "you don't know what will happen. I do funny songs along with stories and jokes."

This is the 33-year-old comedian's seventh year of performing comedy, but only his third year of touring college campuses.

Cavanagh has performed at Zany's and Park West in Chicago and also at Chicagofest.

Frat rapped Phi Sigma Kappa on probation ...

By CAROL ROEHM
Staff writer

Sanctions approved by student activities on Oct. 8 placed the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity on probation for the rest of the academic year, the Faculty Senate was told Tuesday.

The sanctions, outlined by Area Union Head Bill Clark and Student Activities Adviser Anita Craig, include:

- no parties at the Phi Sigma Kappa house.
- no alcohol served at any Phi Sigma Kappa party.
- no participation by the fraternity during Homecoming and Greek Week.
- disbandment of the fraternity's little sister program.

Also included in the sanctions were: mandatory attendance by members at bi-weekly meetings with Interfraternity Council Adviser Sherri Sanders; mandatory attendance at programs on alcohol abuse and sexual harassment; and the completion of community service projects.

The sanctions stem from a "Pimp and Whore" theme party between the fraternity and a sorority on Sept. 30 at the Phi Sigma Kappa house. Charges have been filed against one of the fraternity members who allegedly handcuffed a nude woman to a stairwell following the party and left her there for about five hours.

Craig, who with Clark also explained to the senate the university's role in advising student activities, said the sanctions were just a "preliminary response" to the incident. Further action may be taken later, she said.

... member faces court date set for later this month

By STEVE SMITH
Campus editor

Eastern Junior Clark Schnepfer, the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity member arrested for handcuffing a nude Sigma Kappa sorority member to a stairwell for about five hours earlier this month, has been given an Oct. 28 arraignment date.

Schnepfer, 21, is being charged with battery following the incident at the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, 1509 S. Second St., on Oct. 1.

Schnepfer was arrested during the weekend and released after posting 10 percent of his $1,000 bond, or $100, Assistant State's Attorney Avery Gerstein said Tuesday. Schnepfer's arraignment is scheduled for 9 a.m. in the Coles County Court House.

Gerstein said battery is a Class A misdemeanor punishable with up to one year in jail or a $1,000 fine.

Nancy Owen, Coles County state's attorney, said the victim, a 21-year-old Eastern student, reported being handcuffed following a Sept. 30 "Pimp and Whore" theme party between the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and sorority.

Before the victim could be set free the following morning, fraternity members had trouble locating the key to the handcuffs, Owen said.

Brett Chapman, national Phi Sigma Kappa executive director, said the national chapter sent an assistant director to investigate the incident on the same day, Oct. 1. However, the national chapter has

Supreme Court judges abortion

CHICAGO (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to review an Illinois law that requires some girls under 18 to notify their parents 24 hours before they have an abortion.

In appealing lower court decision invalidating the 1983 law, Illinois officials said the waiting period was "designed to provide an opportunity for meaningful consultation."

Gov. James Thompson said after the Supreme Court agreed to review the law that he still believes it is unconstitutional.

"No one knows what the Supreme Court taking the case means," said Thompson, whose veto of the law was overturned by the General Assembly.

Crime rate up in first half of 1986

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of serious crimes reported to police rose 8 percent in the first half of 1986, the biggest increase in six years, the FBI reported Tuesday.

Criminologists linked the upward movement to more frequent reporting of crimes to police by victims, population trends and possibly to drug use.

The index of eight major offenses showed that violent crime, led by a 14 percent jump in aggravated assaults, rose 12 percent from the first six months of 1985. Property crimes were up 7 percent.

Crime rose in all regions of the United States, especially in the South and West, up 13 percent and 6 percent, respectively. This was a reflection of population migration from other parts of the country. The FBI's crime index rose 5 percent in the Northeast and 4 percent in the Midwest.

Superpower leaders blame other

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev blamed each other Tuesday for their inability to strike an arms reduction deal in Iceland, but agreed that too much is at stake to fold the arms control bargaining table.

Recalling his description of Iceland as a base camp leading to a summit, Reagan said, "I believe there exists the opportunity to plant a permanent flag of peace at that summit, and I call on the Soviets not to miss this opportunity."

Gorbachev, in a nationally broadcast address to the Soviet people, accused Reagan of trying to push his country into an expensive new arms buildup. But Gorbachev also said that negotiations cannot be abandoned. He did say, however, the next move is up to the United States.

The intercontinental verbal crossfire came two days after the pair, in a bittersweet climax to a weekend of intensive talks, grimly bade one another farewell in the darkness outside a white clapboard house in Reykjavik.

"The American people don't mistake the absence of a final agreement for the absence of progress. We made progress. We must be patient. We made historic advances. We will not turn back," Reagan said in a speech.

Gorbachev said the meeting was useful, but foundered on Reagan's refusal to give up "Star Wars," the space-based missile defense system.

He said he "the Kremlin overplayed its hand seeking to get him to scrap 'Star Wars,' the system known formally as Strategic Defense Initiative, which the president says is vital to America's defense.

Soviets say SDI threatens peace

MOSCOW (AP)—Mikhail S. Gorbachev told the Soviet people Tuesday that the United States lacks the political determination to reach arms control agreements and wants to "bleed the Soviet Union white economically" through an expensive arms race in space.

In a 65-minute address that was televised nationwide, the Soviet leader gave his first assessment since returning home from the Iceland summit with President Reagan on the failure of the two superpowers to agree to reduce nuclear arsenals.

He said the meeting was useful, but foundered on Reagan's refusal give up "Star Wars," the space-based missile defense system.

"After Reykjavik it is clearer than ever for everyone that SDI (Strategic Defense Initiative) is the symbol of obstruction to the cause of peace, the epitome of military schemes, of the unwillingness to remove the nuclear menace looming over mankind," Gorbachev said. "There can be no other interpretation."

Car hits man

U of I student hurt
in freak accident,
critically injured

By ERIC WEDEKING
Staff writer

A University of Illinois student was seriously injured after being struck by a car while attempting to cross a street just north of Eastern's campus shortly after midnight on Friday.

James Gillespie, of Glen Ellyn, was reported in critical condition by officials at Burnham Hospital in Champaign Tuesday night.

Diana Garza, evening coordinator for Burnham, said Gillespie was transferred from Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center in critical condition during the weekend.

Garza said she could not elaborate as to the extent of Gillespie's injuries.

Charleston city police reports state that Eastern student Kimberly Grant, an 18-year-old freshman, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident.

Area police did not file an official report until Tuesday.

Police reports state that Grant, driving a white 1981 Honda Prelude, was traveling southbound on Sixth Street about two blocks north of Eastern's campus when she struck Gillespie at the knees.

The impact caused him to strike his side into the windshield area and roll off the vehicle into the street, reports state.

A passenger in the vehicle, Michelle Duda, an Eastern sophomore, said in police reports that she observed Gillespie about 50 feet ahead in the roadway. She stated in the report that she attempted to warn Grant, but it was too late.

Reports state that Duda told police Grant left the scene and drove to a parking lot down the street.

She said Grant was "very scared, crying and didn't know what to do," reports state.

Duda exited the auto and Grant drove off, reports state.

Duda found Grant at her residence 45 minutes later, the report states. After a discussion, Duda said in the report that she told Grant to go to the police and report the accident.

Grant went to city police headquarters to report the accident at about 4 a.m. later that morning. Police reports state that police advised Grant of her constitutional rights.

Grant "refused to answer questions without an attorney present," the police report state.

The police report also indicated that Grant had been drinking but police did not give or offer her a test.

Grant's automobile was impounded at a local garage police, reports said.

Elderly man crashes car into tree

Heart attack listed as possible cause

By CHRYSTAL PHILPOTT
City editor

An 88-year-old Charleston man was listed in extremely critical condition Tuesday after suffering a heart attack and running his car into a tree.

Earl Thompson, 7 Bryan Place, was taken to Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center after his white Chevrolet Caprice swerved from the road and hit a tree on 10th Street and Tyler Avenue.

Charleston police officer Hank Pauls said the accident, which happened at about 10:30 a.m., has been accredited to the heart attack.

"We suspect he may have suffered a heart attack which caused him to veer off the road," Pauls said. "He was transferred to Sarah Bush Lincoln Health Center and the medical personnel told me he was in full cardiac arrest when he arrived there."

Pauls said, however, it is impossible to determine whether Thompson had the heart attack before or after he hit the tree.

Several persons reported hearing

An early morning car crash Tuesday caused an elderly man to be hospitalized. Police suspect a heart attack caused the victim to crash into a tree on the corner of 10th and Taylor Streets.

only a loud crash, Pauls said and no one reported hearing the car skid. Pauls also said no skid marks were visible on the street which further supports the heart attack as the cause of the accident.

"It appeared he was traveling at a normal rate of speed without trying to reduce speed," he said.

Pauls said he estimated on his police report that damage to the car was more than $250. No tickets were issued.

$490,000 grant given to coal firm

Oakland, area may benefit with 1,500 mining jobs

By TERI BROWN
Staff writer

About 120 coal mining jobs will be created in the area within the next year thanks to a $490,000 state loan granted to Energy Resources Development Inc. of Benton.

Lt. Gov. George Ryan presented the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs check to Alan Weed, Energy Resources president, at a luncheon Tuesday at the Charleston

Inn, 920 W. Lincoln Ave.

The company will eventually develop five coal mines in the Oakland area using 35,000 acres of land. About 1,500 jobs will be created when all five mines are in use, and 120 will be produced within the year.

Oakland is located about 15 miles northeast of Charleston on Illinois Route 133.

"The total cost of the project will be $2 million," Ryan said. "This loan will be the leverage to get the rest of the money."

As Weed accepted the check, he said, "Thank the Lord we're living in the greatest country in the world."

"I'm so happy to accept this check. It's going to make jobs. It's going to make paychecks. We're going to go as far as we can go."

The Oakland coal mines will be the first developed by the company.

Secret of preregistration: Sign up early

By ERIC WEDEKING
Staff writer

Eastern students who have not already preregistered for spring semester classes may do so until Nov. 14 at the registration office in the south basement of McAfee Gym.

Students with declared majors may pick up their materials at between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the registration office. Mike Taylor, director of registration said that early enrollment started Oct. 6.

Taylor added that students should not wait until the last minute to preregister. "The sooner students enroll for spring semester classes, the better their chances are in getting into the classes they want," he said.

Class schedules and information cards should be placed in the drop box outside the registration office.

Taylor said class schedules are processed by the registration office on a "first come, first served" basis and according to the student's class rank.

First priority begins with graduate students and ends with freshmen, he said.

"Compared to last spring's preregistration, we estimate there should be around 8,400 students pre-enrolling," Taylor said.

After preregistration is over Nov. 14, Taylor said students will be able to obtain their class schedules, after paying fees, the second week of December in the Union Ballroom.

New liquor law can be a good thing, but...

The Charleston City Council is soon expected to pass an amendment to the city's liquor code. The amendment has been placed on file and, unless there is an unexpected outcry from local residents, it will be passed at the council's next meeting.

The amendment gives Mayor Murray Choate, who is also Charleston's liquor commissioner, the power to impose fines on liquor license holders for violations of city ordinances or state laws pertaining to the sale of alcohol.

Currently, the city's liquor commissioner can only suspend or revoke an establishment's license—in short, close a bar or liquor store.

There are also other provisions to the amendment. City Attorney Tony Sunderman has said the changes in the code would save the state money if local sanctions are appealed to the state liquor commission.

Amending the liquor code may be a good idea. Certainly there is nothing wrong with saving money.

The amendment also gives the liquor commissioner (mayor) much more flexibility. If the change is passed, the mayor will no longer have to close down a bar to punish a minor infraction.

Under the amendment, the fine can be up to $1,000 per violation. The fine given for a violation could be much less than the revenue a bar or liquor store would lose by being closed for an evening.

However, we also realize that the power to impose fines can be abused. It is a power that brings with it responsibility. The amendment gives the liquor commissioner the power to impose fines for violations "at his sole discretion."

Imposing fines is a much more subtle form of punishment than a license suspension. It is not hard to notice when a bar is closed for business. However, a large number of small fines can add up and become quite expensive, and the general public often loses interest in anything that becomes commonplace.

In the end, we don't think this is a bad amendment to the local liquor code, as long as it is applied carefully and honestly. Sadly, we are again reminded of Choate's past performance in office. Our fear lies not in this amendment, but with this administration.

Like—what are you really saying?

Some people just don't have a clue.

Take my Uncle Albert, for example. OK, so I really don't have an Uncle Albert, but I had to change the name and the identity to protect the innocent.

He just can't grasp the meaning of everyday conversations. I don't know why. The last time I talked to him, it went something like this.

"Hi Unc, how's it goin'?"

"How's what going? I'm not going anywhere and the body parts I still have control of aren't going anywhere that I'm aware of, either. But if you want to know how I'm doing or are just bascially concerned about my well being—I'm doing very well, thank you."

"Glad to hear it."

"How are you doing in school?" he asked.

"Pretty good, except, there's like, this guy in one my classes and he like, never takes notes."

"Like this guy? Well, was it a guy or wasn't it?"

"Well, of course it was a guy, I'm so sure you said that. Like is like, an adjective, you know?"

Albert is visibly embarrassed at this point.

"So, like I was saying this guy like, sleeps, and not just for a few minutes, but for the whole hour. He wakes up just in time to hear the instructor shutting his notebook and looks at me and goes, 'I like, can't follow this guy. Can I, like, copy your notes?' And here's me going, 'I can't believe this guy even asked me that.'"

"Where were you going during this conversation?" my uncle asked.

Jean
Wright

"We weren't going anywhere. We were standing in the classroom."

"So when you say 'going' you really mean 'saying' and no distance has actually been traveled.?"

"Exactly."

"Well, why didn't you say that."

"I said I went, didn't I?"

"Yes, you did. Forgive me."

"So, like, here's this guy going, 'Give me your notes', and here's me like, 'Forget about it.'"

"Wait a minute, you just said like was an adjective," Uncle Albert said.

"It is."

"OK, let me get this straight. You can also use 'like' to mean, 'this is how I was feeling at that moment'?"

"Right, but you're really starting to over-analyze a bit aren't you? Just go with it."

"Oh, you mean just say with it?"

"No, just flow with it."

"OK, so in addition to using the word 'go' to mean travel, say and asking about someone's general well-being, you can also use 'go' to mean flow with something?"

"Exactly. So after I went to that guy, 'Like no way am I going to give you my notes.' He goes, 'Like why not?' And here's me going, 'Like, how did you make it to college?'"

"How did you make it through English class," my uncle said.

"Oh, I slept through class and just, like, borrowed the notes."

So my uncle goes, "I'm so sure," and as he left I was starting to think he really understood especially after I heard him ask Aunt Martha, "How's it goin'?"

Your turn

Library column misses the mark

Editor:

This letter is in response to the article by A.L. Landers, "No one is out of place at the Library," that appeared in the Tuesday, Oct. 6 issue of The Daily Eastern News.

I am a member of a fraternal organization and I am also one of the many people on this campus that study in the stacks. I am sure there is not a greek on this campus that believes he or she is a member of an "all-but-forgotten culture." I am also sure none of the people who study in the stacks consider themselves to be "geeks or nobodies."

A.L. Landers, I consider you a "geek" or a "nobody" for writing an article on such an irrelevant topic. I also consider you to be a bigot for categorizing people the way you do in this article.

Victim shouldn't shoulder blame

Editor:

The recent coverage of a "supposed university prank" left important questions unanswered and raised other issues. While I find the idea of a "Whore and Pimp" party repulsive and abhorrent, it does not lessen the seriousness of the crime of handcuffing a young woman nude to a bannister for several hours.

The remarks quoted in the newspaper by the state's attorney trivialized and minimized the degradation and humiliation suffered by the young woman. These comments reflect the terrible attitude of our community and country that it is acceptable to victimize women, that it is somehow her fault totally that it happened to her, that it was "just" a harmless college prank. This attitude is shameful. How are we to adequately protect women and children from violence with this attitude espoused in our community?

It is time for both our elected officials and the media to place the matter of violence in the proper perspective—the victim is "just" that, a victim. When will the responsibility for the violence be placed where it belongs—on the perpetrator(s) of the crime?

Events offer alternatives to mid-week blahs

Dating workshop to focus on abuse

Bonnie Buckley, director of Coles County Women Against Rape, will discuss the three types of dating abuse at a free workshop from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday in the Union addition Charleston—Mattoon Room.

Buckley said she believes a large part of the problem is the amount of peer pressure in dating.

Genie Lenihan, Counseling Center psychologist, said the workshop will also discuss abuse recognition and ways of getting out of an already abusive situation.

Internship measure on senate's agenda

Eastern's Student Senate will consider a bill Wednesday that would request administrators to consider reducing student fees for students doing off-campus internships.

The bill, submitted by Senator Tim Taylor, was developed after several complaints were made by students who fulfill their internship requirements in places such as Walt Disney World, Senate Speaker Joe O'Mera said.

Although students doing off-campus internships are not using any of the services paid for through student fees, they are still required to pay them, O'Mera said.

The senate will probably table the bill at its regular meeting at 7 p.m. in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola Room, O'Mera said.

WEIU schedules live entertainment

WEIU-TV channel 51 has scheduled the two special live satellite programs.

"U.S. Foreign Policy and Dissent: Are we Saviors or Imperialists?" will feature government officials and famous personalities including actor Mike Farrell and singer Jackson Browne. The program is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

Included in the program will be comments by some of America's most influential policy-makers including senators Ted Kennedy, Joseph Biden, Christopher Dodd and Richard Lugar.

Following this program, several bands will take the stage for a "Live from London" concert broadcast at 9:30 p.m.

Strategic planning topic of discussion

Strategic Planning for the 1900s will be the topic of discussion Wednesday in the Union Grand Ballroom.

Tom White, director of strategic planning for the Rexnord Corp. in Milwaukee, will led the discussion that is slated for 7 p.m.

Strategic planning is when "you go out and you plan a strategy, you set down your ideas and you set down a way of obtaining them," Kevin Cravens, Eastern's Student Advisory Board representative, said.

Companies to offer career opportunities

Representatives from more than 70 different companies will be at Career Day from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday in the Union Grand Ballroom.

"This will be an excellent opportunity for all students to meet with employers from many different fields," said Placement Center secretary Rosalee Noble.

Seniors should bring a current resume so employers will have a permanent record of their qualifications, Noble said.

Archer Daniel Midland, R.R. Donnelly, ICTC, Sears, IBM, a television station and St. Francis Medical School College are just a few of the participants.

Career Day is sponsored by the Placement Center, Phi Gamma Nu, Delta Sigma Pi and Phi Beta Lambda.

Play tryouts planned all students invited

Auditions for the upcoming production of Henrik Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday in the theatre of the Doudna Fine Arts Center.

Director Mel Slott, theatre instructor, will hold the auditions for any registered student interested in trying out. Copies of the script will be provided at the audition.

yet to take formal action, he said.

"We are looking into preliminary sanctions, but the investigation is continuing," he said. Chapman but would not speculate on possible actions.

Chapman admitted he has "never heard of the (Pimp and Whore) theme" and said theme is not a common one.

The university released an official statement that stated "appropriate disciplinary action" would be taken against the organizations and those involved.

Keith Kohanzo, university judicial hearing officer, said a hearing before Eastern's Judicial Board has not yet been set. He said the matter is still under investigation and a hearing would not be held this week.

He noted that Eastern's disciplinary system is confidential.

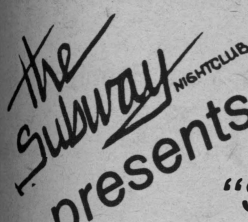

Interfraternity Council Advisor Sherri Sanders declined to comment Tuesday morning on any possible sanctions being imposed by the council.

However, later in the day, Sanders confirmed sanctions had been imposed on Oct. 8 after they were announced at the Faculty Senate meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The sanctions were approved by student activities, the IFC's governing body. The IFC, which governs the fraternities, will impose the sanctions.

Sanders said she was told not to comment on the sanctions but declined to reveal who told her not to do so.

North Carolina Dance Theater is coming.

Robert Lindgren, Founder / Director

"A dynamic superbly trained group that combines fire with lyricism, precision with style."

— ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

North Carolina Dance Theater is a professional affiliate of the North Carolina School of the Arts.

North Carolina Dance Theater

is a highly acclaimed ballet company touring America today. The 18 dancers perform both classical and contemporary works by a wide variety of choreographers. The North Carolina Dance Theater is under the direction of Robert Lindgren. The company's recital will include: Crowns and Others, White Dragon, Satto the Wind Dance, and Tchaikovsky's Allegro Brillante. The North Carolina Dance Theater will perform on Sunday, Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. in McAfee Gym. Admission is $2 for Eastern students and $5 for general public.

Clue

IT'S NOT JUST A GAME ANYMORE

See the popular Parker Brothers board game come to life in the whodunit, comedy movie Clue. A group of eccentric characters are summoned to a luxurious dinner party in an elegant, but deserted, New England Gothic Mansion. One by one, each guest's darkest secret is revealed during the evening. Will you be able to unlock the sinister secrets of this fascinating puzzle before the film's characters beat you to it? See Clue to find out on Fri., Oct. 17 in the Grand Ballroom at 6:30 and 9 p.m. Admission is $1.

Tonight, Free Comedy in Subway

Tonight in the Subway there will be a comedian performing that you won't want to miss! This man is putting the 'hum' back into humor, and enjoys making people laugh with the songs he sings. Who is this man?—It's Tim Cavanagh! He is a regular favorite at Chicago's best comedy night clubs—'Zanies,' and 'Who's on First.' Tim loves to perform at colleges & universities and has done a TV show with Martin Mull. His songs have been among the most requested pieces on the "Dr. Demento" radio show. Tim was said to be "an accomplished stand-up" comedian by Chicago Tribune while Chicago Magazine says he has "a good sense of the ridiculous."

So come see Tim Cavanagh tonight at 8:00 in the Subway. It's free. the laughs are on us.

advisers spoke to various members of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and the Sigma Kappa sorority about the handcuffing incident. Craig said the stories they heard had "many discrepancies."

The Senate expressed other concerns of the party theme contributing to the participants' behavior, girls staying at the fraternity houses after the party is over and the day of the week that parties are scheduled.

Senate member Michael Loudon suggested that student activities look at the academic responsibility of fraternities and sororities.

Bears looking to sign Flutie for '87 season

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears have acquired the rights to quarterback Doug Flutie from the Los Angeles Rams for an unannounced future draft choice, Bears' General Manager Jerry Vainisi announced Tuesday.

Flutie, the 1984 Heisman Trophy winner out of Boston College, played in the United States Football League with the New Jersey Generals last year.

The Bears last week indicated they were interestd in Flutie and said Monday that if they acquired him they would sign him to a 1987 contract so as not to disrupt their 45-man roster.

Flutie, who at 5-foot-9 has been considered too small to play in the National Football League, has said he wants a chance to prove himself and was delighted when he learned the undefeated Bears were interested in his services.

"I'm an anxious kind of kid, I don't like to sit still," said Flutie, who was in Boston when he heard the news. "But I realize the situation. I know Jim McMahon is the No. 1 quarterback."

McMahon has been hampered by injuries through most of his career and is currently nursing a mild shoulder separation. McMahon is backed by Steve Fuller and Mike Tomczak.

Carter ends slump in Mets' 2-1 victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Gary Carter broke out of a 1-for-21 slump with a run-scoring single in the 12th inning that gave the New York Mets a 2-1 victory over the Houston Astros on Tuesday and moved them within a game of their third National League pennant.

The game-winning hit gave the Mets a 3-2 lead in games in the best-of-seven playoff against Houston and sent the series back to the Astrodome for Game 6 and 7.

Carter, confused and distressed by his lack of production after a 105 RBI season, had only a double in Game 2 and had gone hitless in his first four at-bats this time, before singling home the winning run off Houston reliever Charlie Kerfeld.

Jesse Orosco pitched two hitless innings for his second victory in relief in this series. Orosco now has worked five scoreless innings in the playoffs.

Astros pitcher found innocent of scuffing

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike Scott, the Houston Astros' pitching star who has baffled the New York Mets twice in the National League playoffs, was declared innocent of scuffing baseballs by NL president Chub Feeney on Tuesday.

Feeney met with Frank Cashen, the Mets' general manager, before the fifth game of the best-of-seven series.

"As far as we know, Mr. Scott is not guilty of this infraction," Feeney said in a statement. "A man is innocent until proven guilty."

This game, however, belonged to Carter, who stayed on the field well after the game, waving to fans and raising his hands in victory.

Nolan Ryan of Houston and Dwight Gooden of the Mets dueled into extra innings, Ryan giving up only two hits as the Astros outhit the Nets 9-4 for the game.

When Wally Backman singled off the glove of third baseman Denny Walling with one out in the 12th, it was only the third hit of the game for New York.

Kerfeld tried to pick Backman off first, but his throw was wild for an error and Backman went to second. The Astros then walked Keith Hernandez intentionally, bringing up Carter.

The count went to 2-and-0 on Carter, before Astros pitching coach Les Moss came out to talk with Kerfeld.

Kerfeld got back to 3-and-2, and Carter fouled off two pitches, before driving a clean single up the middle that scored Backman easily.

Extra point plays could have made a difference

Football notebook/ Dan Verdun

Perhaps lost in the shuffle of Saturday's thrilling 31-30 Eastern victory over Northern Iowa were a pair of key extra point plays.

The one most will probably remember is the point-after attempt following Northern Iowa's first touchdown.

Place-kicker Mike Angell hooked his attempt wide left to leave the purple Panthers with a 6-0 lead at the 9:17 mark of the third quarter.

While Angell's lack of execution hurt Northern Iowa on that particular point-after, Eastern holder Pat Carroll saved the Panthers from doing the same by scooping a low snap off the turf.

Carroll adjusted to a bad snap and got it placed down in time, allowing Rich Ehmke to boot it through the uprights to give Eastern a 21-16 lead at the time.

"At the time it didn't seem like a whole lot, especially when we got up 28-16," Carroll said. "But at the end of the game it turned out to be a big play."

Carroll is relatively new on the job, considering he only became the Panthers' holder just prior to the Kansas game last season when Scott Sanderson quit the team.

"I did it all through high school, so it really wasn't anything new," Carroll said.

Air Payton

Panther quarterback Sean Payton appears well on his way to cracking the coveted 10,000-passing yard plateau.

Through the Northern Iowa game, Payton has thrown for 9,046 yards in his career. The senior needs to average 190.8 yards per game in the final five Panther games this season to reach the mark.

Money man

Eastern wide receiver Roy Banks is closing in on yet another Panther record.

Banks, who caught three passes for 81 yards and two touchdowns against Northern Iowa, needs just eight receptions to move past Willie White and become the all-time reception leader.

White has 164 career catches, while Banks has 157 heading into this week's Western Illinois game.

Return to kicker

Both Rich Ehmke's kicking tee and the padding for the north end zone goal post have been returned.

Both items were found Tuesday in the vicinity of O'Brien Stadium.

Milestone victory

Ehmke's heroics not only provided Eastern with an all-important victory but also gave fourth-year Panther

Panther running back James Marable (7) rushes for some of his career-high 120 yards in Saturday's 31-30 win over Northern Iowa. Marable also had two touchdowns to his credit in that contest at O'Brien Stadium.

Mental mistakes besiege spikers

Butler outlasts Panthers

By JOHN STROUD
Associate sports editor

INDIANAPOLIS—Crucial mental errors led Eastern's volleyball team to a disappointing five-game loss at Butler Tuesday. That's something coach Betty Ralston would rather not see three days before the Gateway Conference season opens.

The Bulldogs outpsyched the Panthers 19-17, 17-15, 7-15, 13-15, 16-14 to leave Eastern 11-12 prior to opening the conference at Bradley Friday. Butler evened its record at 10-10 with the victory.

"We had several chances in the first and fifth games to put them away, but we just couldn't do it," Ralston said.

The Panthers were only one point away from winning in those games with a 14-9 edge in game one and a 14-8 lead in the fifth game before the Bulldogs rallied to win both decisions.

Mental mistakes at crucial points in a match have been a question mark for the Panthers all season. Now, with the Gateway season opening this weekend at Bradley and at Western on Saturday, the problem is of major concern to Ralston.

"The mental toughness was not there," Ralston said. "And that concerns me with the conference season right around the corner."

Ralston added that the Bulldogs were "a real scrappy team," meaning they were able to keep the ball in play in tough situations. That type of team has also posed problems for Eastern this season.

Blocking, which has improved for the Panthers since last season, was also off Tuesday, Ralston said.

"Our blocking wasn't very good—It was a very disappointing team performance."

Senior Maura LeFevour led the Panthers in blocking with five solos and five assists. Junior Diane Eiserman led the team in kills with

Booters' vertigo offense face the Eagles

By DOBIE HOLLAND
Staff writer

A lackluster offensive punch has sent Eastern's soccer team into a two-game tailspin.

Hopefully by the time the Panthers suit up for Wednesday's 3 p.m. contest against Southern Indiana at Lakeside Field they can remedy an uneventful situation, coach Cizo Mosnia said.

The Panthers, 4-3-1, face Division-II Southern Indiana, 6-3-2, a team once ranked 15th.

Mosnia and his players agree Eastern's key problem this year has been scoring. It has often been the case for a Panther to miss a wide open shot at the opposing goal.

"It's not a disaster," Mosnia said. "It always seems like the same players get the sweet chances (to score) and they miss. But when they aren't in there (playing), we don't get the special chances."

"I don't like making any excuses in regards to inexperience. A person over 18 years old should be able to do his job," Mosnia said.

The Panthers start two seniors, fullback Kevin Vaughn and captain Matt Gamache at midfield, and "that may have something to do with it," Mosnia said.

But Gamache said it goes a little deeper than that.

"The problem is they don't have that kill desire to win," Gamache said. "We felt lucky we scored (last Sunday at Cleveland State) before the other team did."

Other veterans such as junior goal keeper Mark Simpson felt the same about Eastern's scoring problem.

"We have to do a better job of finishing in front of the net," Simpson said. "We've had wide-open shots at the net and missed them."

"We don't keep pressing. Against Illinois State (in a win), we kept the pressure on," he said.

Simpson added, "We need to be more aggressive on defense. When we mark a man he should know he's been marked."

Boston mauls Angels to force 7th game

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, behind Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd's gutty pitching and Spike Owen's four hits, charged past the California Angels 10-4 Tuesday night, tying the American League playoffs and setting up a decisive seventh game.

By winning Game 6, the Red Sox overcame a 3-1 deficit in the best-of-seven series and put themselves in the position they wanted. Roger Clemens, Boston's ace right-hander and the most dominant pitcher in baseball this season, will start Game 7 Wednesday

The deciding game will mark yet another chance for the Angels to win the first pennant in their 26-year history and for Manager Gene Mauch to reach his first World Series in 25 years.

The Angels started Game 6 by taking a 2-0 lead in the first inning on consecutive RBI doubles by Reggie Jackson and Doug DeCinces. California went on to load the bases and seemed to be one batter away from knocking out Boyd before being overhauled by the Boston express.

A packed crowd of 32,998, not including fans wedged on top of nearby rooftops and clinging to high-rise signs above Fenway Park, watched Boston tie it in the bottom of the first and break the game open by scoring five times in the third, two on first baseman Bobby Grich's throwing error.

Marty Barrett added three hits for the Red Sox, who totaled 16 in all and pinned the loss on Kirk McCaskill.
